Mom

Write your letter in the box below.

Ok, first of all, I've said it a million times, I can't write back if you don't send me a bunk note first! So stop saying write more letters! Yeah, I got the package, and no, I'm in Tzofim, so we don't get to have underground fights. A couple days ago we had the day of service, which you did not tell me about. We went on a 20 second ferry ride to Jetty Island and removed scotchbroom. A few nights ago we had the talent show, and it was really fun. So to get our attention, Alex, the unit head, yells "How firm?" and we yell back "Tzofim," like we're saying so firm, you know? A few days ago he said that and then Claire said, "Tzo freaking firm I can't even" and it was hilarious. Today's Maccabiah, but we saw it coming. First of all, today was the last day they can have it this session, and the schedule (whatever) said Dr. Seuss' birthday, but it's in February. Also Aaron Alter asked all the counselors last night if ~~he could~~ he could borrow something blue and he did it in front of us, then he gave us a lecture on not ruining Maccabiah for the Goyimers. Tomorrow is Chloe's birthday, and she's really excited. Ok, that's it, byeeeee.
